Polyana 3 / MobilePro 900 How to change the back-up battery

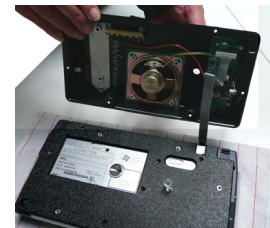

Please do not attempt this unless you feel confident to partially dismantle the unit and use tools. Any damage caused may result in costly repairs.

1. Close the lid and turn the unit over on a soft cloth on a table.

2. Use a small hex key to remove the small screws at the edge of the black casing.

3. Carefully separate casing parts. The main computer and backpack casing are connected by a ribbon cable. Take care not to stress this cable.

4. Undo battery cover using a coin

5. Remove battery cover to expose the back-up battery.

6. To remove the battery – use a small flat head screw driver – first it is necessary to push the battery into it's casing so that it can spring out.

7. Once the battery has lifted, use tweezers or small long-nose pliers to remove the battery.

8. If you have a battery tester – you can test the old battery.

9. Take a new battery and replace the old battery.

10. Reverse the above steps to refit all pieces. Fit the door to the battery compartment first, then refit the backpack casing piece.
